Dear Ted:

Many thanks for your note of May 25. I shall be glad to participate in the discussion following your remarks and those of Ed Barrett and Hadley Cantril. As regards the evening address to the class, I feel this has to be tailored a bit to the temper (or temperature) of the audience and has to be kept in a relatively light vein. I had thought of speaking on some subject as "How strong is the Soviet Union, after all."

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
